01

Purely Belgian!

Revor is 100% Belgian! We take pride in purchasing a vast majority of raw materials from Belgian or even local companies and manufacturing all mattresses in our modern production site in Kuurne, West Flanders. In doing so, we support local production and employment and can rely on verifiable quality standards through personal relationships with our suppliers.

Beds and mattresses are made by experienced craftspeople, using materials that improve your sleep health.

What began in 1972 as a small boutique in Kuurne's Ring Shopping Centre, today is a leading player in the mattress industry. With Jan Maes as CEO, Revor Group grew into an internationally renowned company with its brands Revor Bedding, Styldecor and Jaritex by Revor.

Exceptional foam

Is the type of foam inside a mattress really that important? The answer to that question is an absolute no-brainer: yes! It's precisely that which defines the quality of a mattress and thus its price. The cheapest mattresses on the market are made of basic polyurethane foams (PU), whereas Revor uses high-quality foams such as latex, memory foam or hybrid foam. What's in it for you? Better ergonomic support, more comfort, active ventilation and therefore better hygiene, all of which result in a healthier sleep.

The hybrid foam that is used in our mattresses is a high-density material that is extremely durable and comfortable for hours of heavenly sleep.

Ergonomic support and optimum comfort go hand in hand with the look and feel of your bed, turning the bedroom into the heart of your home.

Our boxsprings and mattresses are designed to offer ultimate ergonomic comfort – a quality we strive for every day.

Resilience

In addition to the foam, the springs also determine the quality of a mattress and boxspring. Whilst the cheapest mattresses on the market are made with Bonnell springs, we only use thermally hardened pocket springs. Does that make such a difference? It really does! This type of springs offers better ergonomic support, better lying comfort and longer durability.

There's this misconception that an afternoon nap interferes with nighttime sleep. When timed correctly, a nap enhances alertness, improves memory and reduces fatigue.

Sustainability is key

Revor is putting in every effort to increase the sustainability of its entire production process. The production site completely runs on self-generated solar energy, waste streams are meticulously managed, we only use FSC-certified wood and even the local bee population is supported. Revor was the first Belgian company to launch a fully circular mattress.

Revor is the first Belgian company to launch a fully circular mattress and is at the forefront of sustainability in the European bedding industry.

Sustainability is an important part of our corporate culture. We do not use plastic at lunch, cooling and heating in the entire factory and office building is controlled by a state-of-the-art HVAC-system on solar energy and waste streams are carefully managed. We have beehives on the roof to support local beekeepers and the chickens in our company garden produce fresh eggs in exchange for green waste.
